

Operating your digital information screens has never been easier thanks to Oscart, the clever cloud tool.

Thanks to Oscart, your visitors will always enjoy the right texts, videos and photos. You get to decide which content will be shown to your visitors, on which screen and at what time.

Which Oscart are you today?

You want to share your company's story every day, whether you want to promote a product or share your new opening hours. Oscart allows you to very easily display and adapt the messages on your info screen.

Oscart is so flexible that you can decide which content will be shown on which info screen. Announcing a meeting in the morning and playing a video clip of the office party in the afternoon? Managing your info screens has never been easier thanks to Oscart.

Share your story- anytime, anywhere

You want to welcome your visitors, inform them and express the right image all at once. Not the easiest task, but thanks to Oscart you needn't worry. After all, it's completely up to you which content your visitors will see, on which screen and at what time.

Oscart is a flexible way for you to always present the right texts, videos and photos to your visitors. A real win-win, since your (potential) client is immediately well-informed and your company or organization makes a professional impression. By personalizing your screens you will reinforce your brand even more.
